

CALL FOR PAPERS for the CREATIVE WRITING AND ARTS SECTION

The journal accepts submissions of creative writing and the visual arts engaging in topics related to the environment, culture, and the nonhuman. Creative works should preferably reflect the special focus of each issue to be included with the issue, although this is not a strict requirement. Reprints can be considered in the case of creative work (writing or visual), particularly where previously published in small, local, and therefore difficult to access publications. Submissions are accepted in English, Spanish, French, German and Italian. Translations of original creative writing are also welcome. Submissions are reviewed on a rolling basis, although submissions intended for a special issue should preferably be submitted at least by January for the Spring issue and July for the Autumn issue. All contributions must be submitted online at www.ecozona.eu, making sure to select the Creative Writing and Arts section. Once received, they are reviewed by the section editor. In the abstract section, please include a short artist statement (max 250 words) with reference to the submission, specifying if it is intended for a special issue. There is also the possibility to make specific comments (formatting, etc) for the editor when submitting.

All works should be submitted in Microsoft Word or .rtf format or in a valid image format for art work. Images should be sent preferably in jpeg format with the following size and quality: 1500-1000 px width /jpeg quality 8/200 dpi. Please upload just 1 file per submission, unless the file is too large. Poems should preferably all be included in one file, separated by space and title(s). The word limit for short fiction is 3,000, 100 lines for poetry, and up to 6 images in the visual arts. In the near future, video and audio submissions will also be considered for publication (technical specifications TBA). The journal uses a Creative Commons license, CC BY-NC-ND for creative work. Artists may request a more restrictive copyright.
